

Contents

On the Cover

42

Bryan Gatons, Texas SII, is pictured here with the Javad Triumph-1 against the backdrop of the World's Richest Acre in downtown Kilgore, Texas. The pool of oil on which Kilgore sat in the 1930s was so abundant that the drilling derricks were crammed together as closely as possible.

12

22

Features

- 12 A Model Home For NASA's New Space Telescope
Laser scanning plays a vital role in NASA's preparation for the launch of a new space telescope.
By Rito Morales

- 22 John Austin Survey
A group of surveyors rediscovers and perpetuates an ancient patent corner in downtown Houston.
By Jack Chiles, LS

- 48 Direct Reflex vs. Standard Prism Measurements
A New Jersey Institute of Technology student's senior project compares reflectorless with prisms.
By Christopher M. Ernst, LS

Departments

- 28 Conference Review:
ICG Report, Part 1
By Gavin Schrock, LS

- 10 WOW Factor: SOKKIA's
Mobile Reference Station

- 42 Equipment Review:
Javad Triumph-1
By Shawn Billings, LS

- 58 Field Notes:
Contemplating Cooley
By John Wilusz, LS, PE

In This Issue

- 6 Editor's Corner:
SPAR 2009 and the
Carlson User Conference
By Marc Cheves, LS

- 72 Vantage Point:
Mapping the Zone
By Wendy Lathrop, LS, CFM

- 67 Advertisers' Directory

- 68 MarketPlace