

Contents

On the Cover

8

El-Hassan Ahmed Mohamed, an inspector for Sudan's National Corporation for Antiquities and Museums, positions a relic at Jebel Barkal, a sandstone table-mountain close to the Nile River.

22

32

Features

- 8 Finding My Inner Indiana Jones (Using Carlson SurvCE to Survey History)
A Massachusetts LSIT makes the trip of a lifetime to help an archeological team locate and examine ancient ruins in The Sudan.
By Rob Rosa
- 22 A View into Stadium Innovation from the Top
In the construction of Lucas Oil Stadium in Indianapolis, tolerances were uncommonly tight to enable a new type of construction.
By Don Talend

Departments

- 32 Conference Review: Javad GNSS User Conference
The editor reports on his summer visit to Moscow to attend the first annual user conference.
By Marc Cheves, LS
- 50 Equipment Review: Spectra Precision EPOCH 25 GPS System
Here's a close-up look at some cost-effective dual-frequency gear.
By Shawn Billings, LS
- 61 It's Your Business: The Business of Surveying—People, Product and Profits
A successful business owner in Texas shares some wise advice for 2009 and beyond.
By Robert L. Young, LS
- 72 Surveyors Report: Yellow Jackets and Other Vile Critters
Hilarious accounts about something surveyors know way too much about.
By C. Barton Crattie, LS, CFM

In This Issue

- 4 Editor's Corner: Passive Monuments and Dynamic Changes
By Marc Cheves, LS
- 6 Point to Point: Minimum Level of Competency
By Joel Leminger, LS
- 59 Vantage Point: The Curse of (Certain) Tall Buildings
By Wendy Lathrop, LS, CFM
- 66 FeedBack
- 67 Advertisers' Directory
- 68 MarketPlace