

Contents

On the Cover

Surveyors erect a “cool” replica of Stonehenge.

Features

12 Stonehenge on Ice

Alaska surveyors recreate ancient Stonehenge at the World Ice Art Championships in Fairbanks.

By Martin Gutoski, LS

22 Day of Reckoning

Wasteful construction practices and misplaced priorities are placing a deadly strain on America’s infrastructure. A legal expert suggests five solutions.

By Barry B. LePatner, Esq.

Departments

10 The WOW Factor: Heads up Rod Level by SECO

Ever looked up from your rod bubble to see an 18-wheeler bearing down? Here’s help.

32 RTN: 101: Mounts Count

Important tips for selecting the right mounts for RTN antennas.

By Gavin Schrock, LS

48 Product Review: Adapx Digital Pen and Capturx for ArcGIS

Check it out—a digital pen that captures field notes and mapping information!

By Joe Bell, LS

54 Software Review: MicroSurvey CAD 2008

This popular software package comes with IntelliCAD built-in.

By Shawn Billings, LS

72 SurveyorsReport: Doing the Right Thing

A surveyor and business owner discusses the ethics of contingency fees.

By Donald G. Groesser, LS

In This Issue

6 Editor’s Corner: Machine Control
By Marc Cheves, LS

8 Point to Point: Good Data, No Fences
By Joel Leminger, LS

28 Vantage Point: How “Hard” Must “Hardship” Be?
By Wendy Lathrop, LS, CFM

62 FeedBack

66 Advertisers’ Directory

67 MarketPlace