

Contents

On the Cover

6-23-07—Buchanam Co MO EMA Director points to a high water flood mark on a flood pole. Image courtesy of FEMA.

Features

- 10 Wet Work
Ways in which surveyors can make money with flood certs and flood mapping.
Wendy Lathrop, PS, CFM
- 16 Survey on a Quad
A one-man survey operation applies extensive mechanization to a topographic survey.
Fulvio Bernardini
- 20 Locators—The Lost World
Homesteaders relied on Land Locators to realize their dream of ownership.
Chad R. Erickson, PS and Linda Erickson
- 36 Seeking Respect—Surveying’s Societal Value
Texas Professor Gary Jeffress leads a campaign to educate the public about surveying.
Don Talend
- 42 Surveying the Southern California Coast—Part 2
A recap of historic geodetic control, used for “moving coordinates from one point to another.”
Jay Satalich, PS

Departments

- 6 Angle Points: The City of San Diego Begins to Restructure
After years of neglect and dismissal, new management turns the ship.
Michael J. Pallamary, PS
- 48 Footsteps: Otay Mesa Properties versus the United States
Government policies made from afar affect homes and property.
Landon Blake, PS
- 56 The Curt Brown Chronicles: Curt Brown in the 21st Century
Curt’s influence continues to assist in the resolution of boundary conflicts.
Compiled by Michael J. Pallamary, PS
- 53 Feedback

In This Issue

- 4 Guest Editorial: Survey Summit 2013
An engineer’s honest assessment of this event, and of surveying in general.
Gene Roe, PS, PE, PhD
- 51 MarketPlace
- 55 Advertisers’ Directory

>> Are You Receiving Our eNewsletter?
Subscribe @ www.amerisurv.com

