

Contents

On the Cover

Ronald Reagan, our 40th president, during his "other" career as an actor. Image courtesy Bryant Sturgess.

Features

8 Surveyors in History

California engineer and surveyor Bryant Sturgess has amassed a collection of 400 antique surveying images. Here are a few.

12 GPS at LSU: A New Box for the Tigers

Baseball fans are enjoying the new Alex Box Stadium, a state-of-the-art sports facility at Louisiana State University. Survey technology played a large part in the construction.

By Forest Crump

19 Surveyors Convert, Connect and Expand to Create a Network of Possibilities

An Ontario firm uses robotics and RTN to greatly expand both the type and amount of its work.

By Vicki Speed

26 A Visit to Nedo

The Black Forest in Germany is home to one of the planet's premier manufacturers of surveying accessories.

By Marc Cheves, LS

44 Surveyors in the Pipeline: Preparing for Careers in Survey and GIS

It began as a passion to teach real-world science, and became a student pathway to careers.

By David Maddalena

64 Pointed Journeys

You've heard of geo-caching? Here's a new activity that searches the globe for confluences, the 14,029 points (on land) at which zero lines of latitude and longitude cross.

By Joseph J. Kerski, Ph.D

In This Issue

6 Editor's Corner:
Conference Season
By Marc Cheves, LS

54 Vantage Point:
A Wish List for Risk MAP
By Wendy Lathrop, LS, CFM

58 Advertisers' Directory

59 MarketPlace